

THE SWEAT STOPS HERE

The miraDry system is FDA-cleared for use in the treatment of primary axillary hyperhidrosis and the permanent removal of underarm hair. It also may reduce underarm odor.

Important safety Information:

The miraDry system is contraindicated in people with heart pacemakers and other electronic device implants, who need supplemental oxygen and with known resistance to or history of intolerance of local anesthesia including lidocaine and epinephrine. Key side effects associated with miraDry include swelling, discomfort or pain, redness, bruising, bumps and altered sensation in and around the treatment area. Prior to use, Health Care Providers should review all the risk information found in the instructions for use. Full instructions for use and detailed information including risks and benefits can be found at corp.miradry.com.
